

Young Citizen's Passport Seventeenth Edition weblinks

Police and Courts

The Home Office - Copies of the Police codes of conduct are available from the Home Offices' website, www.homeoffice.gov.uk

Legal Adviser Finder - If you are charged with an offence, it is important to get legal advice as soon as possible. Solicitors must hold a contract from the Legal Services Commission (LSC) in order to carry out this work. You can find a contracted firm via the Legal Adviser Finder, <http://legaladviserfinder.justice.gov.uk>

Civil Legal Advice provides free, confidential legal information and advice on a wide range of topics, including the rights of victims, witnesses, and rights on arrest, for those eligible for legal aid. If you are not eligible, they will be able to help you find a legal adviser or solicitor near you, www.gov.uk/civil-legal-advice

Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) is the official body overseeing complaints against the police. For information on how to make a complaint if you have witnessed or believe you have suffered police misconduct, go to www.ipcc.gov.uk

Ministry of Justice – the official website for the justice system in England and Wales - www.justice.gov.uk